SOUTH-CAROLINA AND COUNTRY GAZETTE; JOURNAL.

Containing the freſheſt Advices, both Foreign and Domeſtic.

TUESDAY, JULY 17, 1770.

SOUTH-CAROLINA.

By the Honourable WILLIAM BULL, Eſquire, Lieutenant-Governor and Commander in Chief, in and over the ſaid Province.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS ſeveral Perſons of notorious ill Fame, have lately moleſted the Weſtern Settlements of this Province, by going in confederate Gangs, with Fire-Arms, ſtealing Horſes, robbing Houſes, and committing other Outrages, to the great Damage and Terror of the Inhabitants of thoſe Parts. IN ORDER THEREFORE to bring ſuch atrocious Offenders to condign Puniſhment, and to preſerve the Peace of thoſe Settlements, and the Lives and Properties of his Majeſty's Subjects there reſiding, I HAVE THOUGHT FIT, by the Advice of his Majeſty's Honourable Council, to iſſue this my PROCLAMATION, hereby offering a Reward of THIRTY POUNDS Proclamation Money, to any Perſon or Perſons who ſhall apprehend, and bring to Goal, within One Twelve-Month from the Date hereof, any of the Perſons who have been, or may be, Principals in any of the ſaid Crimes of Horſe-Stealing, and Houſe or other Robberies, committed in the Weſtern Parts of this Province, ſo apprehended and brought to Goal. AND I DO HEREBY ſtrictly enjoin and require all Juſtices, Conſtables, Peace-Officers, and others his Majeſty's leige Subjects, to be aiding and aſſiſting in bringing them to Juſtice.

GIVEN under my Hand, and the Great Seal of the ſaid Province, at CHARLES-TOWN, this Thirteenth Day of JUNE, Anno Domini 1770, and in the Tenth Year of his Majeſty's Reign.

WILLIAM BULL.

From the MIDDLESEX JOURNAL of MARCH 20.

To the Publiſher of the MIDDLESEX JOURNAL.

SIR,

WHAT Lord Chatham ſaid in a ſelect Company, laſt Friday, has been much miſrepreſented in the other papers; I was preſent, and will report to you, literally, what he did ſay.

Lord Chatham.

"The Civil Liſt is appropriated in the firſt place to the ſupport of the civil government, and in the next, to the honour and dignity of the Crown; in every other reſpect the minute and particular expences of the Civil Liſt are as open to Parliamentary examination and enquiry, in regard to the application and abuſe, as any other grant of the people, to any other purpoſe: and Miniſters are equally or more culpable for incurring any unprovided expence, and for running in arrear this ſervice, as for any other. The preambles of all the Civil Liſt acts prove this, and none but children, novices or ignorants, will ever act without proper regard to it; and therefore, I can never conſent to increaſe fraudulently the civil eſtabliſhment, under pretence of making up deficiencies, nor will I ever bid ſo high for Royal favour; and the Miniſter who is bold enough to ſpend the people's money, before it is granted (even tho' it were not for the purpoſe of corrupting their repreſentatives) and thereby leaving the people of England no other alternative, but either to diſgrace their Sovereign by not paying his debts, or to become the prey of every unthrifty and corrupt Miniſter, ſuch Miniſter deſerves death.

"The late good old King had ſomething of humanity, and amongſt many other royal and manly virtues, he poſſeſſed juſtice, truth, and ſincerity, in an eminent degree; ſo that he had ſomething about him, by which it was poſſible for you to know whether he liked you, or diſliked you.

"I have been told that I have a Penſion, and that I have recommended others to Penſions. It is true; and here is a liſt of them; you will find there the names of General Amherſt, Sir Edward Hawke, and others of the ſame nature; they were given as rewards for real ſervices, and as encouragement to other gallant heroes. They were honourably earned in a different ſort of campaigns than thoſe at Weſtminſter; they were gained by actions full of danger to themſelves, of glory and benefit to this nation; not by corrupt votes of baſeneſs, and of deſtruction to their country. You will find no SECRET ſervice there; and you will find that when the warrior was recompenſed, the member of parliament was left free. You will likewiſe find a penſion of 1500l. a year to Lord Camden. I recommended him to be Chancellor; his public and private virtues were acknowledged by all, they made his ſtation more precarious. I could not reaſonably expect from him that he ſhould quit the Chief-Juſticeſhip of the Common-Pleas, which he held for life, and put himſelf in the power of thoſe who were not to be truſted, to be diſmiſſed from the Chancery, perhaps the day after his appointment. The public has not been deceived by his conduct. My ſuſpicions have been juſtified, his integrity has made him once more a poor and a private man; he was diſmiſſed for the vote he gave in favour of the Right of Election in the ſubject."

Here the North Britiſh Lord, who lately made a remarkable declaration about the Revolution, and talked of foreign force, called Lord Chatham to order. The CONFEDERIE of SIXTEEN, and the MAGPIES, clamoured---to the bar---to the bar. L---M---t moved, that LordChatham's words ſhould be taken down.

Lord Chatham.

"I neither deny, retract or explain theſe words. I do reaffirm the fact, and I deſire to meet the ſenſe of the houſe; I appeal to the honour of every Lord in this -------, whether he has not the ſame conviction."

Lord Rockingham, Lord Temple, and many other Lords, did on their honour moſt ſolemnly affirm the ſame.

Lord S------h and Lord W------h would have withdrawn the motion; but Lord M------t, encouraged by Lord M-----d, perſiſted, and moved in ERSE, that nothing had appeared to juſtify ſuch an aſſertion.

Lord Chatham.

"My words remain unretracted, unexplained, and re-affirmed. I deſire to know whether I am condemned or acquitted; and whether I may ſtill preſume to hold up my head as high as the noble Lord who moved to have my words taken down."

To this no anſwer was given.

Lord Chatham.

"If I am to go off acquitted, I do now declare to you, that there are many men to impeach, and many meaſures to arraign for the ſecurity of this nation, and the very exiſtence of our laws and conſtitution; and, by God's bleſſing, I will arraign and impeach them."

To all HONEST FREEHOLDERS.

-----Propter vitam vivendi perdere cauſas. Juv.

WHILE hackney'd pens fair Freedom's cauſe aſſail,
And envious tongues proclaim the venom'd tale;
While haughty Placemen, long too numerous grown,
And venal S---tes public good diſown;
While ſome with folly, ſome ambition, drunk,
Are melted down in Penſion or in Punk;
Condemn the People's choice with ſcornful eyes,
And vow he ne'er ſhall ſit whom they deſpiſe;
While mobs are hired for the black decree,
And vile aſſaſſins ſuffer'd to go free;
While wounded Liberty expiring lies,
And with her juſt complaints has pierc'd the ſkies.
Shall you indifferent ſtand, indifferent view,
The chains, thus forging for your ſons and you;
Nor boldly dare to claim the ear of Kings,
Who timely ſhould ſuppreſs theſe baneful things?
Bluſh not the facts to ſpeak, the truths diſcloſe,
Nor dread the paltry penſion'd ayes and noes;
Think what the Knights and Barons long withſtood,
Think of the charter gain'd at riſk of blood;
Think how the martyrs wak'd the gen'rous ſtrife,
Aſſerting truth, with brave contempt of life;
Think, and if Liberty * demand thy care,
O! ploufly tranſmit it to thy heir;
Call forth your ſons, inſtruct them to adorn
Thoſe ſacred rights, to which yourſelves were born.

PROBUS.

* Liberty was firſt obtained A. D. 1258, at which time the Commons are ſuppoſed to have obtained the privilege of Repreſentatives in Parliament.

LONDON, April 27.

MR. Trecothick repreſented to the Houſe of Commons on Monday laſt, that the exports to America in 1768, had exceeded thoſe in 1769, upwards of 700,000l. He alſo ventured to aſſert, that unleſs the duties upon tea were repealed, the exports of this year would fall conſiderably ſhort of thoſe of laſt year. It likewiſe appeared, that out of eighteen ſhips lately in the port of London, and bound to New-York, only three ſailed, and that the whole amount of the three cargoes did not exceed 20,000l. whereas, if the differences which unhappily ſubſiſted between the mother country and the colonies had been amicably ſettled, the cargoes of thoſe ſhips would have amounted to, at leaſt, 300,000l.

The friendſhip and hoſpitality ſhewn the Ruſſian fleet in the ports of Great-Britain is likely to be attended with great commercial advantages to this kingdom, as we are credibly informed, a beneficial treaty is now on foot with the court of Peterſburgh, for eſtabliſhing, on a permanent footing, an Engliſh company on the plan propoſed by Jonas Hanway, Eſq; in 1739, for trading to Aſtracan and Perſia, by the river Wolga and the Caſpian ſea.

April 26. The treaty of alliance between the courts of Berlin and Peterſburgh, is finally concluded. On which 20,000 Pruſſians are on their march into Poland, to reinforce the Ruſſian army in that kingdom.

The Raguſans have fitted out a ſquadron of thirty ſhips, to join the Ruſſians againſt the Turks.

The empreſs of Ruſſia has ſent extraordinary couriers to her ambaſſadors at Madrid and Verſailles, requiring a categorical anſwer, in regard to which ſide thoſe powers intend to take part with in the war in the Mediterranean.

Letters from Bombay, in the Eaſt-Indies, adviſe, that Heyder Ally is inceſſant in training up his ſoldiers in all the branches of the European Exerciſe; that he gives great Encouragement to foreigners, and particularly to the French, to enter into his ſervice.

May 1. This day Sir Robert Bernard was introduced to the Houſe of Commons by the honourable Henry Grenville, and William Pultney, Eſqrs. and took his ſeat as member for Weſtminſter.

Lord Chatham ſpoke near two hours on Tueſday in the Houſe of Peers, on his own motion, he began his grand ſpeech about five o'clock, and did not conclude till a quarter before ſeven.

May 2. The Greek cities were ſo eager to ſhake off the Turkiſh yoke, that the Ruſſians found their conqueſts on the Morea half made to their hands. By accounts from the eaſt, it ſeems that the Ruſſians are preparing for one great attack on the Peloponneſus and Conſtantinople, from every quarter.

Letters from Smyrna mention, that they had juſt received the important news of a total revolt having taken place in the province of Armenia, and country of Mount Ararat, againſt the Grand Signor, and at the ſame time advices were received of inſurrections at Tocat, Angora, and Epheſus, and it was expected, that even Paleſtine would take up arms to expel their tyrants.

May 4. Yeſterday the following removes took place in the court of common-pleas, Weſtminſter-hall, viz. Juſtice Bathurſt took place in the room of Sir Edward Clive reſigned; Juſtice Gould in the room of Juſtice Bathurſt; and Sir Joſeph Yates, from the court of King's-bench; Juſtice Aſton took place in the room of Sir Joſeph Yates; Juſtice Willes in the room of Juſtice Aſton; and Sir William Blackſtone took the oaths and ſeat on the bench, for the firſt time, as junior judge in that court.

May 5. The Supporters of the Bill of Rights, we hear, intend to erect a beacon, in imitation of that at Boſton, on that remarkable hill, called Traitor's Hill, ſituated between Hamſtead and Highgate, and juſt under the houſe of lord Mansfield.---- Tradition ſays, on this hill the perſons concerned in the powder plot aſſembled, to ſee the parliament-houſe blown up.

Letters from Paris tell us, that there are frequent private conferences at court, whereby it is imagined that ſomething very important is on the tapis. There is much talk of entering into freſh alliances, and it is given out that the peace cannot poſſibly ſubſiſt long, meaſures being privately taken to ſupport a new war. Their troops are ſaid to be in as good a condition as can be deſired, and may be augmented in a very ſhort time. Their naval forces begin to vie with thoſe of Great-Britain; ſo that, if neceſſity ſhould require it, France might, at a ſhort notice, engage afreſh with greater advantage than ſhe began the late war.

May 8. Copy of the Proteſt againſt the determination of the Houſe of Lords on Tueſday laſt: 'Diſſentient', Becauſe the foundations of this bill being ſo fully laid in the reaſons contained in two proteſts entered upon the journals in this houſe on the 2d day of February. We think it indiſpenſibly neceſſary to proteſt againſt the rejection of the ſame, to the intent that it may be delivered down to poſterity, that this great conſtitutional and effectual method of remedying an unexampled grievance, hath not been left unattempted by us; and that, to our own times, we may ſtand as men determined to perſevere in renewing, on every occaſion, our utmoſt endeavours to obtain that redreſs, for the violated rights of the ſubjects, and for the injured electors of Great-Britain, which in the preſent moment, an over-ruling fatality hath prevented from taking effect; thereby refuſing reparation and comfort to an oppreſſed and afflicted people.

Chatham, Portland, Plymouth, Rockingham, Abingdon, Boyle, Grofvenor, Stanhope, Ponſonby, Suffolk, Richmond, Radnor, Archer, Fitzwilliam, Temple, Torrington, Rutland, John Bangor, Wycombe, Forteſcue, Huntingdon, Tankerville, Abergavenny, King, Ferrers, Lyttleton, Bolton, Coventry, Buckinghamſhire, Scarborough, Northumberland, Manchester.

We are aſſured, that it has been reſolved in council to ſend no additional troops to Boſton, till the return of letters in anſwer to the laſt government diſpatches ſent thither.

We hear that ſome little time ago there was a meeting had by three of the principal miniſters from foreign courts, to conſult on the declaration of lord Chatham; and it was agreed to addreſs him, to know what power he alluded to, when he ſolemnly declared hoſtilities had been commenced againſt Great-Britain; but it being properly explained to them by thoſe in power, all farther proceedings by them on the affair were dropped.

We hear ſtrict orders have been given, that no perſon, of what rank ſoever, ſhall be allowed in future, to ſell out of the army that did not purchaſe into it.

May 9. A letter from Corfu, ſpeaking of the irruption made in the Morea, ſays, "The Ruſſians were joined by 18,000 Lacedemonians, who cut in pieces all the Turks that refuſed to ſubmit. The greateſt carnage was at Patras, where the Turks were pretty numerous, and where they made an obſtinate reſiſtance, ſo long as they were maſters of the fortreſs. The garriſon were nearly put to the ſword, the number of thoſe who eſcaped being very ſmall. Some few, however, to ſave their lives, embraced chriſtianity.

May 10. We are now informed, that the conduct of a certain aſſembly, in regard to the Middleſex election, will not this ſeſſion become matter of further conſideration.

Yeſterday a great number of people aſſembled in the lobby of the Houſe of Commons, and the avenues adjoining, in conſequence of a report which had been ſpread that Mr. Alderman Wilkes intended to go thither that day to claim a ſeat. The crowd was ſo great that the members were hindred from paſſing and repaſſing, whereupon the gallery was ordered to be locked, and the lobby to be cleared, but Mr. Wilkes did not go to the Houſe.

A petition of a very extraordinary nature is intended to be preſented to a Great Perſonage by the colony merchants.

It is ſaid that the earl of Rochford will ſoon reſign as ſecretary of ſtate for the northern department, and that he will be ſucceeded by the earl of Denbigh, now one of the lords of the bedchamber to his Majeſty.

Laſt week a lady at the weſt end of the town, who had her head dreſſed in the preſent taſte, high and large, conſiſting of hair, wool, the dreſſings of flax, &c. which conſtitute a roll for a foundation, and over that a large quantity of lace, one row above another, had the misfortune to ſet the above fabric on fire with her candle, by not making a proper allowance of diſtance from the flames: the apprehenſion of ſuch a bonfire about her ears (as ſhe owns) ſtupified her ſo much, that ſhe could not ring her bell, nor call out for help: and had not the ſmell of the burning hair alarmed her waiting maid, who was in the next room, ſhe muſt have periſhed in the flame, and perhaps the houſe ſet on fire; ſhe now lies dangerouſly ill of the fright, and having her forehead, eyes, and ears much burnt, notwithſtanding the care of the ſervant, who almoſt ſet herſelf on fire, in extinguiſhing her lady's. This ought to be a caution to all who wear enormous heads, to take care they do not run them in the fire.

It is ſaid that the buſineſs on Tueſday, in a certain aſſembly, was occaſioned by a motion of governor Pownall's.

We are aſſured there is to be another dedicated to the conſideration of what concerns our colonies; and that it will be the laſt on which thoſe matters will be agitated this ſeſſion.

May 11. It is aſſerted that lord Chatham has eight more motions to make in the Houſe of Peers, before the cloſe of the preſent ſeſſion.

Letters from Rochford mention, that advice has been received there, of the loſs of two French men of war, with a number of land forces on board, off the iſland of Madagaſcar, in a violent ſtorm, bound to Mauritius with ſtores.

All the letters, papers, &c. which can any way lead to the tracing of the cauſes of a late melancholy event at Boſton, are ordered to be laid before a reſpectable ſociety.

It is ſaid, that ſince the ſtate of American affairs has been opened and conſidered, there appears ſuch a field for cenſure and amendment, that the debates on them, which at firſt was ſuppoſed would only take up three days, will not be cloſed till the end of the week.

May 12. The Commons met to-day, which is not very uſual on a Saturday, in order that the parliament may be prorogued on Thurſday, to which day, the buſineſs of the ſeſſion being ended, they will, it is thought, adjourn.

Next week is expected to be a very buſy one in the Houſe of Lords; but no further matter of conſequence will be agitated, it is believed, this ſeſſion, in the Houſe of Commons, as great part of the members are already retired to the country for the ſummer ſeaſon.

It is the general opinion, that the building additional forts in New-England, with a view of cutting off the communication between the country and town of Boſton, will be oppoſed by the brave people of that province to the uttermoſt, and it is ſaid the meaſure itſelf has been ſtrongly inveighed againſt by many of the court party.

Col. Wedderburn has obtained from his Majeſty a brevet commiſſion of brigadier-general in the Eaſt-Indies. This gives him rank over all the company's brigadier-generals, of whatever date their commiſſions may be.

Mr. Livingſton is not appointed commiſſary of Weſt-Florida, as has been reported, nor to any other poſt under the government; he is gone out as private ſecretary to the governor only; nor is his father, nor was he ever, ſpeaker of the aſſembly of New-York.

May 12. It is now certain, that no land forces will be ſent to Boſton, to ſubdue the ſpirit which appears in that people; but that a line of ſhips will be formed on their coaſt, to ſeize all the veſſels which ſhall carry on a contraband trade; and to preſs the ſeamen into his Majeſty's ſervice.

It is thought, by thoſe in power, that the above meaſure will ſoon diſtreſs the heads of the oppoſing faction, ſo as to humble and reduce them to a ſenſe of obedience to, and dependence on, the mother-country.

The adjuſting the affairs of America, the preſent ſtate of which he formerly prognoſticated, is ſaid to be the ſubject which will employ the abilities and endeavours of a great man in the early part of next week.

May 14. We hear that ſome late letters from Gibraltar mention, that the emperor of Morocco had agreed to open the communication with his dominions, and in the mean time to ſend an ambaſſador to England to ſettle the differences at preſent ſubſiſting between the two courts.

We hear that the further motions which a certain gentleman is expected to make, neither relate to the Middleſex election nor the city remonſtrance.

The Carlton-houſe junto, it is ſaid, are collecting all their forces for the field to-morrow, when Lord Chatham has declared he intends to make a motion in favour of the oppreſſed Americans.

We are informed that the report of ſeveral ſhips of the line having been lately ordered to America, is entirely without foundation; and that no meaſures of any kind whatever will be carried into execution on that continent, till the ſenſe of two great aſſemblies is ſufficiently known.

We learn from good authority, that it is now in agitation to ſend two gentlemen of known abilities to make a perſonal enquiry into the moſt minute circumſtances relative to the late unhappy tranſactions at Boſton.

It is now certain that the American matters cannot be adjuſted this ſeſſion of parliament; therefore, unleſs very nice meaſures are purſued, it is more than probable we ſhall ſoon receive diſagreeable news from a majority of the provinces.

We are well informed, that the French and Spaniſh ambaſſadors have given our miniſtry the moſt poſitive aſſurances, that their courts will not interfere in any reſpect between the Ruſſians and the Turks; and that they have ſent orders to all their ſhips in the Mediterranean, to preſerve the utmoſt neutrality upon the occaſion.

May 15. Yeſterday the earl of Chatham made a motion in the Houſe of Lords for an addreſs to the King, to deſire he would diſſolve the preſent parliament. He ſtated the public diſcontents in England, Ireland, and America; affirmed that the people had no confidence in the preſent Houſe of Commons, who had betrayed their truſt; and ſhewed, from the ſituation of public affairs, the great neceſſity of having a parliament in whom the people can place a proper confidence. All arguments were in vain; and the debates having laſted till nine o'clock, the court lords called for the queſtion! the queſtion! and put a negative upon it.

Yeſterday the ſheriffs went to the Queen's palace, to know when his Majeſty would be pleaſed to receive the Addreſs, Remonſtrance and Petition of the city of London. They were acquainted by the lord in waiting, that his Majeſty could not be then ſeen, and deſired that they would attend on Wedneſday at one o'clock The ſheriffs will therefore wait upon the King tomorrow, and at the ſame time leave a copy of it with his Majeſty. People begin to tremble with apprehenſion for thoſe of their friends who are likely to be concerned in this third Addreſs from the city to the throne, as it is reported to be a very ſpirited one, and may draw on them the vengeance of an irritated and enraged miniſtry.

Letters to-day from the Sound mention, that a Daniſh ſquadron paſſed through there the 3d inſtant for Algiers.

The fleet of men of war fitting out for the protection of the Newfoundland fiſhery, is to conſiſt of thirteen ſail, including ſloops; commodore Byron will hoiſt his flag on board his Majeſty's ſhip Antelope.

War-Office, April 30. His Majeſty has been pleaſed to appoint the following lords and gentlemen to be general officers as undermentioned, viz. To be generals: Sir John Mordaunt, the honourable James Cholmondeley, Peregrine Lafcelles, lord John Murray, John earl of Loudoun, William earl of Panmure, William marquis of Lothian, William earl of Harrington, Hugh Warburton. To be Lieutenant-Generals; William Skinner, the honourable Robert Monkton, John Henry Baſtide, Edward Sandford, Theodore Dury, John Parker, John Lambton, the honourable Charles Colville, John Parſlow, William Browne, the honourable Thomas Gage, George viſcount Townſhend, lord Frederick Cavendiſh, John earl De la War, Charles duke of Richmond, Henry earl of Pembroke, John Severn, Henry Whitley, John Clavering, the honourable George Cary, George Gray, James Adolphus Oughton, James duke of Leinſter, his Royal Highneſs the duke of Glouceſter. BOSTON, June 11.

LAST Thurſday afternoon, near the cloſe of the meeting of the trade, a letter was read from the committee of merchants at New-York, propoſing a congreſs of the trade at the town of Norwalk, in Connecticut. The buſineſs of the letter was juſt opened and adjourned to Friday afternoon, when was again as reſpectable an aſſembly, in numbers and quality, as perhaps had ever attended on a like occaſion; and after a very thorough and deliberate conſideration of the important embaſſy, it was voted unanimouſly, That the body would at all events firmly adhere to the non-importation agreement, and the ſtanding committee were deſired to incloſe the vote in a decent and reſpectful letter to the committee of New-York.

The reaſons given for non-concurrence with the propoſal of our brethren at New-York, were principally theſe.---That any the leaſt alteration in the preſent agreement, now ſo univerſally adopted, lately ratified by our unanimous votes, and publiſhed to all the world, might ſhew a levity of diſpoſition probably injurious to the common cauſe.---That Boſton being but one of ſix maritime trading towns in this province, could not think themſelves warranted to venture upon the relaxation of a compact in which the reſt were equally concerned with themſelves, without their advice and conſent, which was impoſſible to be had before the time appointed for the congreſs.---Finally, that as the object of the propoſed relaxation muſt reſpect an augmented importation in the fall, and that as yet we had obtained no kind of relief from the grievances this meaſure was entered upon to redreſs, we could not admit the queſtion whether one iota of it was to be receded from, till its effect was thorough and indubitable. After this the behaviour of the town of Portſmouth, the capital of New-Hampſhire, was agitated, and a committee appointed to conſider of their conduct in importing Britiſh goods at this critical conjuncture, in a larger proportion than uſual, as if intended to take an unfair advantage of the patriotic ſelf-denial of the merchants in the other colonies, and to draw up a vote reſpecting them, mutatis mutantis, ſimilar to that paſſed againſt Newport, in Rhode-Iſland, and to report at the adjournment, which will be this day fortnight. A vote was then paſſed, importing, that whereas a veſſel was lately arrived here from Briſtol, belonging to Portſmouth, in New-Hampſhire, with about 4000 buſhels of ſalt, and a parcel of Engliſh goods, for this place: And as the trade had lately voted and declined having any intercourſe with Rhode-Iſland, for their infamouſly departing from the non-importation agreement, and that Portſmouth, from the ſame ſelfiſh views, had never yet come into it, but imported goods indiſcriminately, to the great prejudice of the common cauſe.---Therefore Voted, that no perſon of this body will purchaſe any quantity whatever of this ſalt, on any conſideration, nor may any carrier preſume to cart, or any perſon receive it into their ſtore, on forfeiture of the good opinion of their fellow citizens.---

PROVIDENCE, (in Rhode-Iſland) June 16.

On Monday laſt was held a meeting of the merchants and traders of this town, in order to take into conſideration a letter from the committee of merchants in New-York, propoſing a general congreſs of the trade at Norwalk, in the colony of Connecticut. After fully conſidering the propoſal, a committee of three gentlemen were appointed to attend the congreſs, in caſe the town of Boſton ſhould concur with the propoſal, and the meeting was adjourned to Thurſday, when it appearing that the merchants of Boſton had declined joining the propoſed congreſs, it was not judged expedient by the meeting to join therein, but to perſevere in, and preſerve inviolate the non-importation agreement.

NEWPORT, (Rhode-Iſland) June 18.

We hear from Worceſter (Maſſachuſetts-Bay) that at the inferior court held there laſt Wedneſday, four young women, who had been indicted for fornication, made their appearance at ſaid court with eight young children, each having been delivered of twins.

The merchants of Boſton have been invited by their brethren in New-York to ſend a committee to the congreſs to be held at Norwalk in Connecticut, but have refuſed to ſend any: And ſaid merchants have ordered votes to be drawn up againſt the town of Portſmouth in New-Hampſhire, ſimilar to thoſe againſt Newport.

By ſeveral gentlemen arrived from New-York, in the ſloop General Gage, on Saturday evening, we are informed the New-Yorkers have had a numerous meeting of late reſpecting importation.

Laſt Saturday Se'nnight, about four o'clock in the morning, in a thick fog, the Brigantine William & John, Captain Rogers, was caſt away on the ſouth ſide of Long-Iſland. This veſſel was chartered by colonel Smith, of Charles-Town, South-Carolina, in which himſelf, his lady, four children and four ſervants, and ſeveral other paſſengers, were coming to this place to ſpend the ſummer. But happily there was no perſon loſt, except the mate, who was drowned. Colonel Smith with his family arrived ſafe here yeſterday.

CHARLES-TOWN, July 17.

TUESDAY laſt John Hughes, Eſq; who ſupercedes Daniel Moore, Eſq; late Collector of his Majeſty's Cuſtoms for this Port, landed here from on board the Schooner Pennſylvania Farmer, bound from Philadelphia for Georgia; and the next Day he took the uſual Oaths, and entered upon the Duties of his Office.

The ſame Day the Sloop Robey, John Earl, Maſter, arrived here from Rhode-Iſland, and ſailed again on Saturday, on his return back; having been deſired to depart peaceably from this Port in 24 Hours, agreeable to the Reſolutions entered into by the Inhabitants of this Province on the 27th ult.---Mrs. Judith Ball, Relict of the late John Ball, Eſq; and ſome others, went Paſſengers in the Robey.

Laſt Night the Sloop Sally, Peter Scherinerhorn, Maſter, arrived here in 13 Days from New-York, by whom we learn, That the Generality of the Inhabitants of that City were reſolved to abide by their Non-Importation Agreement, as formerly entered into; notwithſtanding ſome of their Merchants and Mechanicks were for breaking through it, by allowing a general Importation of Goods, Tea only excepted.---In the Sally, came Paſſengers Mr. Alexander Gillon, Merchant, of this Town; Mr. Thomas Hartley, of Stono; Mr. Joſeph Marſchaulk, of New-York, and ſome others.

 Advertiſements omitted this Week, ſhall have due Notice taken of them in our next.
